SAVABLE WINS IN A DRIVE.

DRAKE'S COLT TAKES THE VAN CORTLANDT HANDICAP.

Hurst Park, the Top Weight and Favorite. Slow to Begin-Lee Ridley a Good Thing in the Steeplechase Hurstbourne's Fast Mile-Four Favorites Lose

The largest Monday crowd of the meeting attended the races at Morris Park yester-day afternoon, more than 15,000 persons crowding the stands and lawns when the horses went to the post for the first race. The perfect weather, coupled with the closing of many poolrooms in the city, brought the people out, and some excellent sport sent them home in good humor. The Cortlandt Handicap, at seven furlongs, Withers course, was the stake feature, with a fine field facing the barrier. There were three added starters, John A. Drake's Savable, 123 pounds; J. Boden's Rosetint, 108, and P. S. P. Randolph's Red Knight, 108, and, strange to relate, all three finished in the money. Mattie Corbett's Hurst Park, carrying 133 pounds, ruled favorite at 5 to 2, with Savable steady at fours, Lux Casta going back to 9 to 2 and Damon played down to

The start was good, but Hurst Park was so slow in getting into his stride that he was several lengths back of his field in the rush up the backstretch. Damon and Divination took turns at making the pace until the head of the stretch was reached, when Rosetint with the liberal odds of 10 to 1 about her, shot to the front. Hildebrand shook up Savable simultaneously, and the son of Salvator went after Rosetint with royal speed in spite of his heavy impost. Shaw was closing with Red Knight, too, so that it was an interesting spectacle as the leaders reached the last furlong pole. Odom, who had run into a pocket-with Hurst Park on the turn. ment to the outside in the stretch and then put the Kingston colt under a fierce drive. Hurst Park made up the ground with leaps and bounds, but it was too much of a task, even though the leaders were all staggering a few yards from the wire. Savable lasted long enough to win by a head in 1:27%, while Rosetint was two lengths before Red Knight, and half a length before Damon.

W. B. Leeds's Hurstbourne, with 108 pounds, was a 2 to 1 favorite in the last race, at a mile, and he justified this support by winning easily by four lengths in 1:39%. Martin let Buttons make a sharp pace to the middle of the far turn and then sent Hurstbourne to the front as he pleased. Buttons had five lengths over Athel.

H. K. Vingut's Dapple Gold, 6 to 5 favorite, enjoyed a gallop in the first race, for maidens, at seven furlongs, in which apprentice jockeys had the leg up. He towroped the others and had four lengths at the wire, the time being 12814. Niskayuna, 9 to 5, second choice, omped into the place with six lengths over Flag Officer, 4 to 1.

The selling steeplechase, at about two miles, proved to be not only a surprise for the crowd, but also a black eye for the layers. T. Hitch-10 to 1 to 7 to 2, made all the running, jumped beautifully and came home on the bit two lengths in front of W. C. Hayes's Cock Robin, 2 to 1. J. W. Colt's Black Death, 9 to 5 favorite, was a poor third. The race was run in $:58½.

Pink Garter, the favorite, and Sportsman, second choice, both heavily backed, finished out of the money in the second race, for twoyear-olds, at four and a half furlongs Eclipse down to fives, was the winner by a length and a half, little Crimmins riding him out to the end. John E. Madden's Salt and Pepper, 6 to 1, took the place from T. E. Murray's Jack McKeon, 15 to 1. Pink Garter was a poor fourth, while Sportsman got a weird ride from Cormack, the Pontiac colt being ridden all over the track. The time was 0:54.

W. H. Snyder's Oriskany, 2 to 1, second choice, won the third event, run down the Eclipse course, with a length and a half to spare. Travers had him in hand all the way. Thistle Heather, 7 to 1, got place money by three lengths over Bill Daly's Toi San, a 60 to 1 shot, who beat Memphis a head. Baikal, to 5 favorite, burned up a bundle of money The time was 1:13%. Four favorites were unsuccessful. The track was fast. FIRST BACE.

Competitions Postponed on Account of H. D. Babcock's Death.

im account of the death of H. D. Babcock, is the result of an accident in Saturday's match at Van Cortlandt Park between tale and Princeton, there will be no play at Van Cortlandt Park this week. Squadron I had three matches scheduled, including one vesterday afternoon with the Yale team. Play for the Meadow Brook cups, the second event in the spring tournament of the Meadow Brook club, was to have begun yesterday, but after a consultation with H. L. Herbert, chairman of the Polo Association, the committee decided to postpone the tournament until Saturday. The first teams of the Rockaway and Meadow Brook clubs will them play, the winners meeting the Country Club of Westchester team in the final on the following Tuesday. in account of the death of H. D. Babcock.

TO-DAY'S CARD AT MORRIS PARK. Three Stakes to Be Decided on Westehester' Track

Another excellent card has been framed up for Morris Park this afternoon. Jockey Club weight-for-age race at a mile and a furlong, Wither's course, is the feature, W. B. Leeds will be represented probably by both Major Daingerfield and Robin Hood. E. R. Thomas's Andy Williams, Mrs. L. Curtis's Eugenia Burch and R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s, Dolly Spanker are the others. It looks like a hard ace, with Dolly Spanker in some favor because of his recent success against older horses. Some of the best-known gentlemen horses. Some of the best-known gentlemen riders will have mounts in the Amateur Cup, at a mile, while in the handicap at a mile and three-sixteenths Hurstbourne has top weight and will be the favorite, even though he has a good field to best. The Meadow Brook Steeplechase, a race for maidens and a selling event for two-year-olds complete the programme. The entries are as follows:

Lord of the Vale Will Not Start in the Brooklyn.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 23 .- August Belmont wired the Kentucky Farmer and Breeder here to-day that Lord of the Vale would not be a to-day that Lord of the vale would not be a starter in the Brooklyn Handicap on Thurs-day. This paper, which is giving a $12,000 prize to the person guessing the first three horses as they finish, gives the following as the field so far: McChesney, Hermis, Africander, Irish Lad, The Picket, Major Daingerfield, Shorthose, Hurstbourne, Run-nels Proper, Claude, Rostand, City Bank, Lord Badge, Illyria and Delhi.

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK.

IRISH LAD WILL RULE FAVORITE FOR THE BROOKLYN.

Horsemen Say That With Any Kind of Racing Luck He Will Repeat Triumph of Last Year-What the Big Handicap Candidates Are Doing-Bacing in Jersey?

From present indications Irish Lad will the favorite for the Brooklyn Handicap, to be run at Gravesend on Thursday Nearly every practical horseman who is figuring on the esult has picked the Candlemas colt to carry year ago. No horse has ever won the Brooklyn Handicap twice, yet the wise men say the record will surely be broken this time, in spite of the presence of such great horses as Africander, McChesney, Hermis, The Picket, Hurstbourne and others in the race.

"Irish Lad will go to the front and run the others into the ground," said a leading turfman during the races yesterday. "He is the real class of the race, is courageous, a wonderful front runner, and weight does not bother him It is an even bet that Rogers will order Shaw to make the pace with Irish Lad from the moment the gate is sprung. If such proves to be the case, I think you'll see Mr. Duryea's colt come home alone. Since the Metropolitan Handicap the colt has been carefully prepared for the Brooklyn, and has worked the mile and a quarter in 2:12 1-5. Before winning the Brooklyn last year in 2:05 2-5 Irish Lad did not show any phenomenal trials, but he was in the pink of condition when he went to the post. Rogers has the faculty of sending all of his horses to the races in perfect shape, and you'll find that Irish Lad vill be no exception to the rule." Next to Irish Lad the horsemen figure Africander, who will carry one pound more than the Durvea colt. They say that Africander is game and true but that Irish Lad can outrun him. They also say that when Africander beat Irish Lad in a race last year the latter was short of work, otherwise there might have been a different result. It is acknowledged that Africander is a great horse and under Odom's handling will be hard to beat, but just the same the sentiment among the men of the turf favors the son of Can-dlemas. The Star Ruby colt was sent over the handicap route yesterday morning with Jockey Treubel on his back. He was hard held all the way, and at the finish the clocks said 2:12. Trainer Miller declared that the work was entirely satisfactory from every point of view.

McChesney was out at Gravesend and his performance made the railbirds open their eyes. With Tug French, the stable's exercise boy, in saddle, "Big Mac" worked a mile and a quarter in 2:08% without showing the slightest exertion. Trainer Frank Taylor was highly pleased with the showing of the Macduff colt dents. Hermis was shipped from Westchester to Gravesend yesterday. He may have a work-out to-day, although his mile at Morris Park on Saturday in 1:39 1/2, with 128 pounds, was a sufficient guarantee that he s ready for the coming affray.

Hurstbourne's race yesterday, a mile in

1:39%, makes him a sure starter. Martin worked him out another quarter of a mile after he passed the judges. Highball will go to the post, after all the trainers say. He was sent the full route yesterday morning in 2:10, covering the first three-quarters 1:15. Then the boy went to the whip and the Ben Strome colt was under punishment to the end. He pulled up a bit sore, but Trainer May said that he would start in the big race anyway.

The Picket has already worked in 2:06 3-5. fast time. Those who have seen this horse in preparation say that he will make plenty of trouble for the stars. W. B. Jennings's Proper is credited with a mile and a quarter in 2.08½, but some of the clockers say that his time was considerably faster. As the the big horses will frighten out the small fry so that the field may be reduced to twelve or fifteen starters. As McCue has lost favor with E. E. Smathers, it is probable that Fuller with E. E. Smathers, it is probable that Fuller will ride McChesney, while Redfern will have the leg up on Africander. Bullman will ride August Belmont's Mizzen, who, by the way, had a surprisingly good trial for the on Sunday

A story was in circulation yesterday that David Holland, president of the Queens County Jockey Club, at Aqueduct, is making arrangements to build a racetrack on the has received assurance that the New Jersey Legislature will pass a bill legalizing racing in that State. It is not known whether Holland is responsible for the yarn, but if there is racing in Jersey it must be under the jurisdiction of the Jockey Club, so that if Holland is really laying plans of this sort it must be taken to mean that he is dissatis-fied with his holdings in the Aqueduct track and will look for the Jockey Club's protection elsewhere.

It was authoritatively denied yesterday that work has been permanently suspended at Belmont Park. It was stated that the contractors were far ahead of their work, and that they were compelled to lay off a large number of men and teams, but that the work on the new racetrack will be resumed at an early date, and that the gates will be ready to be thrown open to the public for the spring meeting next year.

The result of the Van Cortlandt Handican yesterday was a hard blow for those who had spent hours in figuring out the chances of the horses named to go in the entries sent out Saturday night. When Savable, Rosetint and Red Knight were added there was a feeling of dismay among the players, for few of them knew how good these three horses were, and when they finished one, two, three there was a general throwing up of hands. The Van Cortlandt was first run in 1897, when James Adams's Tinge was the winner. After that the winners were C. T. Duryea's Sly Fox, Rydney Paget's George Keene, H. Eugene Leigh's Vulcain, A. Featherstone's Black Fox, the Osceola Stable's Lady Uncas and F. L. Hitchcock's Sergeant, who established a record for the race, 1:2614.

Somebody got the credit of making a killing with T. Hitchcock, Jr.'s, Lee Ridley in the steeplechase yesterday. The opening odds were 10 to 1, but the money made its appearance in the ring so quickly and in such quantity that the layers rubbed repeatedly, until 7 to 2 and 3 to 1 were the quotations at the end. Lee Ridley was entered to be sold for $1,000, but there was no bid. He performed like a stake horse and there was a roar of welcome in store for the colored jockey is often possible to find some of the persons who are "wanted" at Headquarters. Cormack has fallen off in his riding to a marked degree. Whether he is suffering from overconfidence or has reached his real level, it would be hard to say, but his work that he would be the best like to be the best like the best just now is in striking contrast to the brilliant performances which made him the talk of the turf world several weeks ago. His hand ling of H. C. Schulz's Sportsman in the second race was bungling, to say the least. Khora san, the winner of this event, was liberally played, the price dropping from sevens to fives. John E. Madden and his friends also backed Salt and Pepper down from 8 to 1 to 6 to 1, the daughter of Henry of Navarre— Greenwich finishing second after a cracking good race. It is said that when James Blute learned of the ruling of the Jockey Club stewards ordering him to return Toscan to the Colum-bia Stable he at first threatened to appeal to the courts, but later decided to submit to he inevitable.

John A. Drake and John W. Gates were not at the track, but Savable carried a big commission from the stable, just the same. The sure thing players were on deck when to 3 was offered against Hurstbourne in the last race. To bet $300 to win $100 was like finding money on the sidewalk, they said, and the books were soon loaded up with such wagers. But, while Buttons was racing out n front, the backers of Hurstbourne mopped their foreheads, and many turned away from sheer nervous exhaustion.

Royalist fell at the very first obstacle in the steeplechase, but O'Donnell, who landed on his head, was unhurt. The books lost a ton of money on Hermis's victory on Saturday. In many instances they were still paying off yesterday.

Fuller rode Rosetint in superb style yesterday, and would have won with the Hast-ings filly in a few more jumps, as Savable was dying fast at the wire. Fuller has not been in great demand recently, but a few more such exhibitions of horsemanship will restore him to favor in short order. Hildebrand still leads the winning jockeys at Westchester.

ARRESTED ON RECORD TRIP. R. A. Green Foiled by Open Drawbridge

in Attack on Boston-New York Figures. A new automobile record has just been made by C. A. Pfizenmazen with a 16 2 horse-power locomobile. He left Central Bridge, this city, on Saturday at midnight and arrived at Boston in 8 hours and 15 minutes breaking the former record, held by R. A. Green, of 8 hours and 57 minutes. In an attempt to beat his own figures the former record holder started from Boston at 2 A. M vesterday and arrived in this city in 8 hours 5 minutes, clipping seven minutes off his own record, but falling to match the time made y Pfizenmazen.

BRIDGEPORT, May 23.—While speeding through Westport this morning in an effort to lower the automobile record between Boston and New York a man said to be R. A. Green of New York was apprehended in a novel manner, after eluding an angry Sheriff in Fairfield, and was taken back to the latter town and haled before a Justice of the Peace. On the charge of violating the speed laws on two counts, Mr. Green and his timekeeper were ordered held in bail of $200 each for trial before the next term of the Superior Court.
Samuel T. Davis, Jr., president of the Locomobile Company of this city, was sent for, and he posted cash bonds of $200, and the automobilists were released after a delay of nearly three hours.

Deputy Sheriff Wallace Bulkley of Fairfield tried to intercept the automobilists in Fairfield abut 9:30 o'clock, but failed. He says that the timekeeper put the fingers of laugh as the machine disappeared in a cloud of dust. Determined to catch his tormentor, Bulkley telephoned to Sheriff Kemper of Westport, the adjoining town on the west. Kemper had the drawbridge over the river at Westport opened and, to make sure, he strung a heavy iron chain across the highway. Both men were compelled to drive the Sheriff back to Fairfield, a distance of about six miles, where the Fairfield Sheriff was waiting for them. The driver of the machine at first said that his name was Green, but when arraigned he gave the name of John Johnson. The timeralso gave a fictitious name. Mr. Green admitted that he was trying to reduce the record. The machine was a yellow colored gasolene touring car of the locomobile make. It carried a tag with the license number "9211, N. Y." at Westport opened and, to make sure, he

Le Roy and Grant Defeat Warner and Pell in Doubles.

Good progress was made in the New York Tennis Club tournament yesterday afternoon at 123d street and Manhattan avenue. Robert r. Bryan defeated Dimon E. Roberts rather easily in the semi-final round of the singles Bryan won in straight sets. His fast play In the opening set netted six straight games, his opponent failing to stand the pace. In the second set Roberts took three games, but Bryan had the match well in hand and won out with points to spare. The final round is scheduled for to-morrow with Bryan opposed to Wylie Brant, the indoor champion. The winner plays Robert Le Roy, the club champion, on Friday in a special challenge round to determine the club championship. In the men's scratch doubles Robert Le Roy and Wylie Grant gained a place in the final by defeating H. W. Warner and Theodore by defeating H. W. Warner and Theodore R. Pell. The former pair are considered likely winners of the event, but it took them the full three sets yesterday to win. Just before dark a match in the handicap doubles was put on, H. W. Warner and Theodore R. Pell opposing Louis J. Grant and José Chaves. The light was too poor for accurate work, both teams falling on easy returns. In spite of a handicap of owe half 30 to scratch for their opponents, Warner and Pell won in straight sets. While the light lasted Grant and Chaves put up an even fight, most of the games going to deuce. This win places Warner and Pell in the final. Men's Champion Singles—Semi-final round— Robert Bryan defeated Dimon E. Roberts, 6—(

HARLEM OARSMEN MEET. Loving Cup Presented to James Pilkington -Regatta Entries Approved.

The Harlem Regatta Association held a special meeting last night at the Harlem Casino for the purpose of passing on the entries for the Memorial Day regatta and to transact other business in connection with the meet. Dr. J. F. Buckley, president of the organization, occupied the chair, and Secretary Connell read the entries to those present. Repre sentatives were there from all the local clubs and not a single objection was forthcoming. For the fifteen events there are forty-six entries in all. The best event to fill was the junior eight, which numbered crews from the Columbia University, the New York A. C., Harlem R. C. and Union B. C.

Contrary to the general opinion the entry

Contrary to the general opinion the entry of C.S. Titus of Henley fame was sent in for the senior sculls, and he will have a foeman worthy of his steel in Frank Veseley of the Bohemian B. C. Fred Fuessel of the Harlem R. C. will be an entry in this contest. The junior singles attracted three entries, and the intermediate singles four. The Harlem R. C. made the biggest entry, having a total of six. There were no entries from Philadelphia delphia.

In order that clubs on the Hudson as far up as Yonkers may have an opportunity to become members of the Harlem Regatta Association an amendment was proposed to Article III. of the constitution, as follows:

The membership of this association shall be limited to those amateur and athletic clubs that are located within thirty miles of the City Hall, New York city, and in the State of New York.

After some discussion, it was carried upont.

York city, and in the State of New York.

After some discussion, it was carried unanimously. Immediately afterward an application for membership was read from the Palisade Boat Club of Yonkers and accepted without a dissenting vote.

Then came the presentation of the loving cup to James Pilkington, president of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen. It is an artistic affair, designed by Charles J. Dieges, and is worth $500. On one side there is a halyard in horseshoe shape and attached to it are the burgees in colors of the fifteen clubs composing the Harlem Regatta Association. A pair of oars crossed surmounts this ornament and on the opposite side is the inscription:

Presented to James Pilkington, May 23, 1904. Presented to James Pilkington, May 23, 1904, by the Harlem Regatta Association, New York, as a token of appreciation and affection for many years of unselfish work in the interests of amateur rowing.

Dr. Buckley made the presentation speech and Mr. Pilkington responded with an appropriate dissertation on rowing.

J. H. Milligan of Philadelphia was appointed referee for Memorial Day, J. Pilkington starter and W. Mulcare clerk of the course. ears of unselfish work in the interests of amateur
